Featured Client of the Month: Brian Norris!

Dear Becca & Act Now,

I recommend ACT NOW to fellow actors almost every day. Literally. I have found a lot of success from ACT NOW - in my first year taking workshops with you I booked at least three jobs directly from classes and was called in by well over 75% of the CDs I met. I think the consulting staff is fantastic, I always know which workshops from my target list are coming up and have an easy time getting a spot. I'm a huge believer in the multi-week workshop format. It gives actors a chance to make real relationships with the CDs instead of fleeting first impressions. I love what you guys do and I am happy to be a client.

Thanks for everything!

Brian Norris

Ask Yourself:

Is your work feeling stale? Are you always in your head instead of living in the moment? Looking to get a leg up on the competition? Or maybe you just want an acting class that prepares you for any material that comes your way?

If you said "yes" to any of these questions and you want to study with a highly respected professional instructor with a proven track record in films and on Broadway for the past 40 years, search no more... Alan Feinstein is the teacher for you!

Alan offers classes in scene study, on-camera technique, emotional exercise, cold reading, private coaching and more... All taught in a safe environment and designed to get you out of your head, living in the moment and working.

Experience:

Alan's credits are extensive and speak for themselves (look at his IMDB profile!). In addition to TV and film, he has worked personally with such lauded playwrights as Tennessee Williams, Edward Albee, Arthur Miller, Neil Simon, Herb Gardner and Lanford Wilson. Alan believes the learning process is ongoing:

"I have never heard of anyone getting a diploma in acting. As our life experiences grow, so does our awareness and perception of the world around us. We naturally acquire more 'stuff' to put back into the work, and with desire and effort the possibilities are endless."

Competition is fierce. If you are ready to get your craft in shape, contact Alan Feinstein today! And be sure to check out his website for more information, special deals, and success stories.
